Joint Conference 2004

ADVOCATING FOR ADAPTIVE REUSE

Creating a Culture that Values our Heritage Buildings, Neighbourhoods and Landscapes.

May 14, 15 and 16, 2004
Hamilton, Ontario.

The Scottish Rite Club of Hamilton
4 Queen Street South (at King St.) Hamilton, Ontario.

The Royal Connaught Howard Johnson Plaza Hotel
112 King Street East. Hamilton, Ontario.

The heritage architecture and landscapes of our cities is the repository of the culture and identity of our communities. At the same time as it is valued for this, it is threatened with destruction by financial and regulatory pressures. In Hamilton, like most cities in North America, much of this cultural legacy has been lost or is under threat. This conference will explore examples of heritage architecture, neighbourhoods and landscapes that have been successfully reused by confronting these pressures. It will also look to other jurisdictions throughout Ontario, Canada, and the world to explore the culture of adaptive reuse.

Presented in partnership with:

The Art Gallery of Hamilton Future Cities Project

Generously Sponsored by:
